18th December 2021

To the Secretariat

An Australia Post 'people's bank' would be what every Australian would greatly appreciate especially those living in the regional areas and where many presently are required to travel long distances to do their banking of which also includes some areas in the cities making it incumbent on the aged, the disabled and those in business and simply for the benefit of the general public as a whole this would be wonderful.

Kind regards
