Recently the NAB AMT machine's in George Street Sydney I have used for several years now have been removed and also the alternate ATM's in Hunter Street Sydney as well.

I am slowly feeling my banking options are being removed and as I prefer to use cash I am very nervous about what the implications are going to be for me as a pensioner when I retire

The branch I've attend has also closed and my options are gradually being removed. I am feeling very distressed by this situation and want to see these closures stopped.

I have heard of a proposal for a Citizens type Bank like the Commonwealth use to be, I feel this would be a great solution.
