

Postal banking

I am old enough to remember banking through the post office. It was a great system for those who could not get to a bank...it is imperative now in regional areas where many of the banks are not represented sufficiently. A citizens banking system would be best in order to keep funds in Australia.
Thank you.

M. Kodey